CAN MINERALS MAKE A DIFFERENCE? YES; AND SO CAN YOU.

As you and I age, we need more specialised nutrition. Fish oil for joints, vitamin D, calcium and magnesium for bones; vitamin B for energy and vitamin E and selenium for healthy tissue. There is lots of research to support this. High performance humans need extra attention too; pregnant ladies, growing adolescents and elite athletes. The same is true for our sheep and cattle.

Grazing animals with a good mineral mix in their diet perform better. They have stronger immune systems, transport easier are less prone to the effects of stress. There is also loads of research to support this.

Mineral supplementation is not a difficult nor expensive job. Keeping a supplement, like Anipro Liquid Supplement, in the paddock all year round. Stock will take a little every day. You will be surprised at the results on green grass, and you will be happy with the way they hang-on in the dry. Try it - I dare you. And while you're at it - do the same for yourself. Your livestock rely on you.

PERFORMANCE
FEEDS

Welcome to Ashwood Devons 2018

It always lifts our hearts to ride around the paddocks observing our beautiful cattle and finding more new calves on the ground. Even in the worst of times our Devons prove their “do-ability” and our pastures prove the concept that research, fertiliser and simple hard work produce the goods.

Having recently returned from a trip to the USA which took in the Devons USA Conference and Mini Tour, we realise we have much to be thankful for. For example the photos you are seeing throughout this catalogue were taken in late June when winter has well and truly begun to bite (particularly this year, as it “arrived” a little early). At this time our winter pastures are still sweet, and we have no need to shed our cattle over winter.

Certainly much effort, and for reward which was ... I'm looking for you ...! obvious to us, goes into pastures in the USA (and of course in many other countries) but in Australia good pasture research (both public and private) has been carried out since 1930. Private pasture research has made great strides in getting Plant Variety Rights and some of the results have produced stunning varieties, eg some of the Panic grasses are now suitable for temperate cattle grazing and some of the blue grasses (eg Floren) have been introduced from tropical climates yet are very late maturing and can provide considerable green feed well into early winter. Floren in particular is also drought tolerant and capable of surviving long periods of flood, both characteristics of this “wide brown land” of ours.

Such research and development puts us at the forefront of grass growing and grass finishing our cattle and it is pleasing to see our USA Devon mates taking this path as well. Ashwood's Devons which are offered as MSA (Meat Standards Australia) animals do well in this better-priced, better quality grass fed market.

So this year again we believe we are offering excellent paddock reared bulls and females at our sale. Some of the heifers on offer have been sired by our Grand Champion bull Ashwood Knockout and his quality and breeding is shining through in all of his offspring, both bulls and heifers.

Meantime we look forward to welcome you to our Open Day & Sale on Sunday 19th August and to share with you our beautiful cattle. We will have something to keep you warm and content on the inside!

And please support the local and district businesses that have provided us with their support in the production of our cattle, and of this catalogue.

Malcolm and Jo

Happenings at Ashwood

The highlight for us this year was our trip to the USA in May which saw us take in some of the sights of California, New York and Washington.

We spent our first full day in the USA visiting stunning Yosemite National Park

Later we joined the World Devon Congress on the East Coast portion of the tour which took in farms in Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania as well as some beautiful sights and activities on the way. It was wonderful too for us to catch up with old friends and new from the Devon world in USA, Brazil, Britain and New Zealand.

At Lakota Farm VA (home to the extended Engh family) – we can only hope for the same sort of start to our Spring this year!

The last 6 years of participating in Sydney and Brisbane Royal shows have brought us much joy and pride in our many successes, as well as a gratifying collection of broad ribbons.

We took the decision this year to stop entering at the Sydney Royal (a very costly exercise) and will take a limited team to the Royal Queensland Show. Time for the younger generation to take over in the show ring!

ASHWOOD HEIFERS on SALE

Something different at our sale this year is our offering of 11 young, unjoined heifers in Individual Lots. We are always asked for heifers for breeders' development programs.

Buyers will be able to put together several heifers of their choosing by bidding on all the heifers of their choice in our Silent Auction sale.

BULL Veterinary and Health Information

During their life animals offered for sale have been subject to industry approved care and handling. This includes treatments for health and disease, regular livestock handling and proper feeding and watering. The outcomes are well-grown, fit and healthy cattle free of disease.

All sale bulls have been examined by Veterinarians prior to sale. Each bull is subject to scrutiny for conformation, weight for age, mobility, and temperament. In particular each bull is examined for fertility and male function testing. Further information provided on sale day.

All bulls are offered for sale ready to perform as breeding males.

This is your guarantee and confirmation that bulls leaving this sale are fit for work.

A 'SILENT' Auction

The sale will be conducted as a "silent" or Helmsman type sale. Buyers register with their trading information and PIC on arrival.

A white board with reserve prices for each bull and female will be prominently displayed from 09:00. All bulls and females are on the market simultaneously. The ACTIVE part of the sale is between 11:30 and Midday during which time buyers approach the sale monitor to place a bid for their choices.

The sale progresses when buyers increase prices for the sale cattle. The monitor will show new bids on the sale board with buyers' numbers.

Buyers can bid on more than one bull or female at the same time.

Prices advance by a minimum bid of $250 for bulls and $100 for females.

From midday any further increase in bids must be made during a two minute period following any previous bids.

At the completion of the sale, invoices will be provided to all buyers for immediate settlement with Ashwood Devons. GST will be added after the sale concludes.

If buyers wish to use the service of an agent, the agent must be in the company of the buyer or make advance arrangements. A commission of 4% of the purchase price will be paid to such agents.

Further information about the conduct of the sale will be provided on Sale Day.

Keynote Speaker

Graeme BARNES

Graeme BARNES is a trained agricultural scientist, from the University of Sydney. His work in commercial R&D took him across Australia and across the world. After leaving this career path, consulting work in small business management became the centre of a busy life.

And then, back into agriculture with purchase of a 2000 acre cattle property. Expansion into cattle breeding saw another move into an equal size property, in highly productive country. The cattle operation generated seed stock sales throughout Australia. Commercial and stud cattle were sold from this property and then another two smaller properties in the same region. Ultimately, bulls and embryos were sold into Brasil, USA, New Zealand and Canada.

Graeme's commitment to training has always been a major part of his life. From his first property onwards and over the next 25 years Graeme was an external trainer for veterinary students from the University of Sydney.

Since 2014, Graeme has taken on formal teaching of Agriculture to young people (and some older students!); providing practical training in basic and advanced farm skills, and theoretical knowledge necessary for a first-world food production nation.

His agricultural background provides the resources to write training programs for a diverse range of livestock, cropping and grazing subjects. He continues to provide consultancy to livestock producers and to provide advertising and promotion in livestock industries.

Graeme's talk will focus on making good decisions, at the right time, particularly with sinister drought at hand.
